Your Submission:

submission on community plan 2006

OK Then,

1 I would have preferred the tick the boxes exercise as too much information from the draft plans caused an information overload and is probably why the PRESS today mentioned (page 2) that E Can had received only 75 submissions.

Spaces could be left for special notes.

2 I was told by a councilor that the rich can afford to pay higher rates for libraries and transport when I suggested it would be fairer if there was a flat rate per household .A property in styx mill road which has an old house and approx.3 acres of land is rated for library and transport on the land value which is higher than that of the house.The rich spent their money on the property and may not be CASH rich.

3 Sometimes I wonder about the VALUE of street engineering, eg. speed humps, narrowed corners street gardens and Arches(near Redwood school).There is a petrol wastage in getting to speed again and there is the discomfort for passengers who have disabilities, and the shaking of groceries in the boot.

4 Not even the councilor I spoke to was aware that the council receives some of the road tax that was voluntarily allowed by the Government and this council was 1st to bring this in and owners were crossing the waimak river to buy their petrol in the waimakariri district until that council fell into line

Could this council show some relief for the citizens by canceling this charge until fuel prices stabilize?

5My name is DÁrcy Mora 73 corfe st llam, Christchurch.
